

Our Vision

Confluentcenter aims to establish itself as a center for innovative, cross-disciplinary research at both regional and global levels, particularly at the intersection of arts, humanities, and social sciences.

Our vision is to proactively cultivate collaborations and partnerships with organizations that share our values, fostering heightened cooperation not only within our local community but also in border regions.

Through these endeavors, we aim to create enhanced synergies and a wealth of opportunities for diverse communities.

Contact Us

(520) 621-5137

confluentcenter.arizona.edu

1133 E Helen St, Tucson, AZ 85721

Follow Us

@confluentcenter

Scan QR code

confluentcenter
for Creative Inquiry

Who We Are

The Confluentcenter for Creative Inquiry is a University of Arizona research center established in 2010 under the Office for Research, Innovation, and Impact (RII) with support and funding from public and private organizations.

"At Confluentcenter, we not only provide a physical and intellectual space for the arts, humanities and social sciences, we also foster synergies across campus and community, and share the results with the broader community."

- Dr. Javier Duran,
Confluentcenter Director

Impact

The Confluentcenter has supported the following creative, interdisciplinary research initiatives at the University of Arizona.

| | | |
|-----|-----------------------------|--------------------|
| 51 | Faculty Support Funds | $1,020,493 |
| 205 | Discretionary Project Funds | $287,507 |
| 163 | Graduate Support Funds | $1,684,598 |
| 91 | Microgrants | $129,818 |
| 10 | Subawards | $617,423 |
| 520 | Total | $3,739,838 |

Academic Events

Fostering Community

Binational collaboration

